

Assigned Subjects For 2012

Assigned subjects are designed to challenge your photographic ability. The assigned subject must be the dominant feature in your picture. Search for the unusual. Remember that these are just suggestions. Use your own imagination!

January—Humor

What tickles your funny bone? Capture something that makes you laugh, that you find funny, something ludicrous or absurdly incongruous.

March—Patterns

An artistic or mechanical design, a natural or chance configuration, a sample of observable features.

April—Stormy Weather

Whether the weather is rainy, windy or snowy, great images can be made from the weather to come, the weather as it is happening or the results of weather just passed.

May—Hands & Feet

Most of us take these appendages for granted. They do so much for us with little thought ever given to them. This subject gives us the chance to think about all the things we can do with our hands and feet.

June—Cell Phone Usage

This technology has exploded on the scene even more than digital cameras! It is sometimes unbelievable how, when and where people feel the need to use their phones. Capture something interesting, funny or unique.

September—Pure Michigan

This ad campaign has brought many people to our shores. What is it that you like best about our great state?

October—Action

Lights! Camera! Action! Catch

someone doing something. Action can be any sort of movement or activity.

November—Rust/Rusty Stuff

Metal and moist air don't mix. Corrosion leaves evidence of its effects. There are sure to be many examples if you look in the right place.

December— Time/Long Exposure

Keep your shutter open for an extended period of time and see what effects you can capture.
